Develop and Sustain High-Performance Workforces

Technology, workplace dynamics and a changing business climate have converged to create a new "world of work." Philosophies and processes that succeeded in the past no longer produce effective results.

Human capital executives once believed that they only needed to "hire the best and the brightest" to succeed. But a startling reality inhibits the workplace today: Knowledge acquired does not equal knowledge applied.

Regardless of their industry, companies worldwide experience the same challenges relating to their human resources — hiring issues, problems managing effectively, motivating employees to be more productive and turnover losses, to name a few. Discerning business executives are seeking more efficient ways to increase productivity and revenue as well as to reduce and avoid costs.

Profiles' Enterprise Solutions Division is an exceptional and effective source to help businesses select good-quality employees and generate high performance.

"Our Enterprise Solutions Division has experience and expertise backed by strong research and technology to help savvy business leaders grow their companies," said Profiles CEO Jim Sirbasku. Read more >>

Leadership Expertise Backed by Strong Research

Profiles Senior VP Joe Haney leads the Enterprise Solutions Division. "Our integrated business solutions encompass global talent management functions that include talent planning, talent selection, performance acceleration/on-boarding, talent retention and mobility and performance leadership," Haney said.

With his division's support, businesses can select the right people for the right jobs, develop their leadership potential, retain top performers and leverage leadership performance.

Profiles Enterprise Solutions Division helps companies worldwide to successfully select, develop and retain high-performance workforces.
